OVERVIEW

MAHSA University's Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Nursing is a practical degree programme designed for individuals who are committed to the advancement of the health of individuals, families, communities, and society as a whole.

Students will study a range of subjects from medical and behavioural sciences to nursing sciences, including anatomy, microbiology, nutrition, immunology, pathophysiology, pharmacology, adult nursing, paediatric nursing, maternity nursing, mental health nursing, healthy aging, and psychology. They will also be given practical lessons ranging from simulation exercises to the use of clinical and medical equipment.

At the end of the programme, students will be equipped with the knowledge and skills to deliver holistic nursing care to individuals of all ages in a variety of settings, and thus be invaluable assets to the medical industry both nationally and internationally.
