PROGRAMME

Overview

MAHSA was established in 2005 in Pusat Bandar Damansara, Kuala Lumpur, with the vision of creating a centre of excellence in health care education in this region and thereby developing qualified and compassionate healthcare professionals to serve the needs of Malaysia. By achieving University status in 2013, MAHSA University has now expanded the Nursing programme to PhD.

Structure

Full Time
2 – 6 years

Part Time
3 – 8 years

The PhD Programme is research-focused. The curriculum includes research methodology (qualitative, quantitative and mixed method), statistics, individually designed research practice and a thesis. The thesis is a culminating experience which requires the student to plan and implement a research study of significance to nursing.

All PhD students need to submit a research proposal before the thesis.

Course contents include:

1. Research methodology
2. Proposal development and presentation
3. Research project in nursing and the writing of a report
